M.V. MPASA

M.V. MPasa was built as a passenger and cargo vessel by Harland and Wolff Ltd. Belfast in 1931 and was launched at Chipoka in December 1935. In 1966 the vessel was modified to carry cargo only, having a capacity for 27,400 gallons of fuel and 60 tons of dry cargo.

M.V. ILALA II

Ilala II, the largest vessel to operate on Lake Malawi, was built by Yarrow & Co. of Glasgow and launched on Lake Malawi in 1951. The vessel has a displacement of 620 tons, carries 120 tons of cargo and 461 passengers (11 cabin class, 50 second class and 400 third class).

Ilala I, named after the district where David Livingstone died, was the first steamer to operate on Lake Malawi in 1875 and was brought out by the Free Church of Scotland.

M.V. CHAUNCY MAPLES

The m.v. Chauncy Maples was acquired by Malawi Government in 1965 to provide a passenger service between Monkey Bay and intermediate ports to Nkhata Bay. The vessel was converted from steam to diesel and entered passenger service with Malawi Railways in 1967, and is capable of carrying 160 passengers and 30 tons of cargo. The superstructure has recently been extended.

M.V. NKWAZI

The m.v. Nkwazi was built by Yarrow & Co. in 1955, and is the main cargo vessel on the Lake, with a capacity for 200 tons of dry cargo.
